MARION WATERFRONT HUMS

These photos, taken Saturday morning at Burr's Boatyard, are testimony to the quickening pace along that waterfront as craft after craft is launched and rigged. It was only a few weeks ago that the harbor was empty but no longer is that the case. Every day there are a few more to count out at the moorings. Judging by the longer days

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
APRIL 30, 1991 - by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Five issues were discussed by selectmen last Tuesday in connection with summer activities on the town wharves and Shipyard Park. They include: permit for teen dances, Ice Cream Slip opens in May, safety concerns expressed by Thomas Brownell and John Ruel, and benches donated by the Mattapoisett Woman's Club.

Permission was granted to Mr. and Mrs. Dana Tripp to place the Ice Cream Slip on Holmes Wharf from May through October; cost of license is $150. The agreement was modified to allow the Tripps to leave the trailer overnight on July 19th, 20th and 21st during the Lions' Club Harbor Days. The board did not, however, agree to allow the trailer to remain overnight on Thursdays (teen dance night) nor on Saturdays (square dance night). The Tripps had asked for these two nights because of the late hour (11:30) before the trailer can be removed due to traffic, then returning at 5:30 the next morning. "It's such a short time to stay and it would save a lot of hassle," said Mr. Tripp.

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta noted the no overnight rule was set down when Joe Guard ran the business. "If left overnight it has the potential of becoming a permanent structure", said Mr. DeCosta. "I have no problem with it staying during Harbor Days", he added.

Selectman Paul E. Lambalot asked what would happen if the trailer is vandalized on town land during the night. Mr. Tripp said there would be absolutely no liability to the town.

Another concern of the Tripps was the other peddlers on the wharf, such as the ice cream truck and a lady who was there last year selling belts and handbags. The chairman explained that if these people have a state peddler's license, they can sell their product any place open to the public.

The board received word from Thomas Brownell of Brownell Boatworks, Inc., expressing his opinion regarding conditions at the town wharves: namely, 1] the swordfish wind vane mount is rusted off at the base of the wharf; 2] chains on the east side of the wooden float need repair; the boatyard is willing to do the repair work and selectmen agreed to accept the offer; 3) the hinges on the ramp to the float at the wharf are inadequate; there could be a liability to the town as the hinges are too light to stand up to heavy seas; and 4) Brownell suggested placing the harbormaster's new boat where the old police boat was located - east side of the float. Where the boat is tied now it will not survive heavy seas, Mr. Brownell said. Selectmen agreed to have Harbormaster Steven Mach check with Brownell on these concerns.

Another wharf concern was expressed by John Ruel regarding the breakwater and poles erected last summer on the middle wharf.

Dr. Ruel said the way it is built now it is a potential hazard to get a boat into the slips. The breakwater and pole extend far from the wharf. "With 25 mile winds and rolling seas you have to line up and go in a straight line. I have a power boat, but those with a row boat could have a real problem."

Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney explained that section will be blocked off when the breakwater is completed. The harbormaster will be asked to check into Dr. Ruel's concerns.

Mattapoisett Woman's Club president Lee Yeaton informed the selectmen that the club voted to donate six benches, with identification plaques, to be installed at Shipyard Park in honor of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the club. She noted in her letter that the benches may possibly be ready for use in the summer months.

The board will send a letter to the club thanking it for the benches. Chairman DeCosta will meet with Mrs. Yeaton at Shipyard Park to select sites for the benches.

A dance permit was granted to Maurice "Mudgie" Tavares for the Mattapoisett Track Club to hold Teen Dances on the wharf on Thursdays beginning June 20th through September 12th.

On a less pleasant note, selectmen were notified by the state Division of Marine Fisheries that the following areas are classi-

MET WITH MEMBERS of the Finance Committee and were told the committee working jointly with Town Accountant Joseph Bolton has reduced the amount being requested in the warrant as an operational override from $555,254.54 to $507,893.47. (These figures will be changed at the town meeting.)

Finance Committee Chairman Robert Banz said the override should be divided into three major components: 1) $183,000 to support the portion of the Old Rochester Regional High School budget above 2½; 2) $96,000 to support the local school system; and 3) $259,000 for the operation of town government.

Mr. Banz noted one approach to the override is the built-in 2½ percent raises for employees. In reviewing the budget the 2½ percent raises may be a casualty. Another out of town government would be dramatic. "I don't see how you can cut that much money without cutting payroll, but do whatever your committee thinks best." Mr. Mahoney explained if "we voted a bare bones budget without overrides, then we would at least have a budget. Then we could vote the budget override. I think it's a mistake to go without a budget." This action would put the cuts in perspective and give more information to the voters where the cuts could be made.

MET WITH Water/Sewer Superintendent William Nicholson and Water/Sewer Commissioner George E. Block, Jr. and agreed to release $250,000 previously voted as a partial payment in good faith to the Town of Fairhaven for Mattapoisett's share of the Fairhaven Sewer plant expansion.

Selectmen asked the superintendent to hand deliver the check to Jeffrey Osuch, Fairhaven's executive secretary. All agreed the final agreement is close at hand.

Selectman Mahoney explained one of the hangups in the agreement is the 3 percent Fairhaven wants to charge us for a year's administrative costs. "We pay for our dealings with them, we shouldn't have to pay for their dealings with us."

On another matter, selectmen, the commissioner and superintendent agreed to recommend three of the articles be withdrawn in the warrant for the May 4th town meeting placed by the Water/Sewer Commissioners to replace pipes on Pearl, Parker and Snowfield Streets. Two other streets, Barlow and Brookside Drive, will remain on the warrant with the recommendation funds be from current monies rather than borrowing.

The superintendent said he will explain the matter on town meeting floor for doing a street at a time when funds are available.

WERE INFORMED by Plymouth County District Attorney William C. O'Malley that due to budget cuts his office will no longer prosecute crimes against property within the jurisdiction of the district court. The overwhelming majority of property crimes committed are larceny, receiving stolen property and malicious damage. Two exceptions are breaking and entering and larceny from the person. Additionally, his office will no longer prosecute juvenile offenders except those juveniles which we seek to transfer to the superior court and try as adults. All cases arraigned on or after May 1, 1991 will be subject to this policy.

Selectmen will check with Police Chief James F. Moran to determine if the town's Public Prosecutor, Harry J. Schmitt, Jr., will prosecute these cases. If Schmitt has not done so in the past, and he will in the future, this will mean an increase in the Public Prosecutor's budget.

Introducing A New Air Conditioner For Your Windows.

It doesn't look like an air conditioner. But it acts like one. Because it helps keep you cool when the sun's beating down.

LLumar® Window Film rejects up to 79% of the solar heat that streams in your windows. And that takes a load off your air conditioner. So you'll stay cool and save on energy bills, all summer long. Not bad for something so thin you can see straight through it.

To learn more about LLumar, call the dealer listed below. And find out what a big role this little roll can play.

SOLARSHIELDS give far more comfort as a sun-lens than normal sunglasses. Whether hiking, fishing, sailing or relaxing at the beach, the non-prescription goggle fits easily over glasses or can be worn alone. Skiers, golfers, pilots or anyone concerned with top performance can benefit from a total UV sunscreen - and enjoy the comfort.

Photophobia:
Some people are more sensitive to light than others. For those in need of a "serious sunlens," the SOLARSHIELDS offer complete UV absorption to 400 nm and a choice of tints for comfort in the visible spectrum. Even with a dilated pupil behind the dark tint, the eye is fully protected due to special UV filters in the polycarbonate material. Top and side shields screen out all incident light.

For Cataract Patients
The aphakic eye is extremely vulnerable to postoperative retinal problems if not protected against hazardous ultraviolet radiation.

SOLARSHIELDS replace the same UV filter lost with the removal of the crystalline lens. Immediate comfort and complete retinal protection from UV make SOLARSHIELDS an excellent addition to standard post-operative procedures.

Scott Hecker of Mass Audubon displaying new bird blind on Bird Island

Coastal Waterbirds Meeting Topic

MARION NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM

Scott Hecker, Coordinator of Massachusetts Audubon's Coastal Waterbird Program, will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of Marion's Natural History Museum on Wednesday, May 15th, at 7:30. Mr. Hecker's talk will address conservation efforts made on behalf of the Common and Roseate Terns in the region as well as the Audubon Society's work on Bird Island over the last 20 years. The Museum is located above the Elizabeth Taber Library on Spring Street. Admission is free and refreshments will be provided at the lecture.

Those lucky enough to live near the water or venture off to the beach or onto a boat during the month of May know that summer can't be far off when they hear the familiar cry and observe the graceful circling and swooping of the terns. Bird Island off the shores of Marion contains the largest colony in North America of the Roseate Tern, declared a federally endangered species in 1987. Recently, a group of 30 volunteers helped to clear away dead brush to prepare the nesting grounds for the approximate 3,500 nests that will cover Bird Island. Two hundred Roseate tern nesting boxes soon will be placed all over the island.

MAY PROGRAM

On Tuesday evening, May 21st at 7:30 p.m., Mary Jean Blasdale will present her program on Artists of the New Bedford area at the Mattapoisett Historical Museum and Carriage House, 5 Church Street.

Mary Jean spent ten years researching local artists as a project in connection with the Whaling Museum in New Bedford. Her research has resulted in a book entitled "Artists of New Bedford". Mary Jean introduced her book at a special program at the Whaling Museum during the winter.

She has kindly agreed to present her talk and slides for us on May 21st. Her presentation is interesting in that it covers not only the artists, but in showing slides of some of their work and pictures of themselves, it provides a look at the lifestyles of the 19th century.

This program is open to the public. Please plan to come to recognize not only the rich artistic heritage of our area, but also to recognize our own Mary Jean Blasdale.

EXTRAORDINARY TREE IN SANDWICH

Only God can make a tree and He made this one many, many years ago. This big and beautiful estate in the Cape Cod town is spectacular by itself but the tree outside the front door would be a wonder even standing alone. Measure the width of that trunk by the height of the door. That is a lot of tree.

Gallery Exhibit in Maine

EX-MATT. RESIDENT HAS ART EXHIBIT

Artist Jacqueline DeCosta Barrett, daughter of Selectman and Mrs. John N. DeCosta of Mattapoisett, opened her exhibit of paintings at O'Farrell Gallery in Brunswick, Maine on April 17th.

An exhibit of Mrs. Barrett's work, "Recent Tree Environments", opening reception was attended by over 250 art enthusiasts.

Mrs. Barrett, who lives in Bath, said that these days she paints trees exclusively. "I spend a whole lot of time in the woods.

It's what gives me joy."

Mrs. Barrett, who has had eight one-woman shows in galleries in Maine and New York, works in watercolors, oils, charcoals, pastels and pen and ink.

said Barrett's work appeals to those people "who like to pick up a bit of the wilderness and take it home with them. She captures that quiet space in nature that we all like to escape to sometimes", said Farrell.

Farrell said opening night attendance for Barrett's show was "phenomenal", exceeding in number any opening he has hosted in his seven years of operation.

Mrs. Barrett attended Old Rochester Regional High School and did her studying in New York. She is now recognized and registered with the Maine State Council on the Arts and Humanities, and is a member of Maine Union of Visual Artists.

Jacqueline lives in Bath, Maine with her husband, Michael, and their daughter, Brae.

Mrs. Barrett also operates Barrett's Landscaping Company in Bath.

MEASLES - MUMPS - RUBELLA IMMUNIZATION UPDATE

In recent years outbreaks of measles have occurred nationwide in children, adolescents and young adults. These outbreaks have been expensive, disruptive and difficult to control. A majority of the cases have occurred in individuals who have already been immunized, suggesting that a single dose of MRR (measles - mumps - rubella) vaccine may not provide adequate protection against measles. Therefore, the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Immunizations Practices Advisory Committee have recommended that a second dose of MMR be given.

In order to address these issues, the Public Health Council has approved a revised set of regulations. The purpose of the regulations is to specify those immunizations required by the Department before admission to school. The revised regulations require that a second dose of measles vaccine be given prior to entering the seventh grade. All regulations become effective August 1, 1991.

In order to comply with these regulations it will be necessary that your child be re-immunized prior to entering junior high school. Your physician is aware of these new regulations and it is suggested that you contact him at your earliest convenience to schedule an appointment. Please ask your physician to record the date and immunization given on a physician's certificate and forward this certificate to me at school so that I can include this on your child's health record prior to forwarding your child's health record to the junior high.

Spring Fair

The Loft Cooperative Pre-School of Marion announces its Spring Fair on Saturday, May 11th, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Loft School, South Street, Marion. This year's theme, MOTHER EARTH, focuses on our commitment to protect our environment.

Festivities include games, face painting, gifts, crafts, bake sale, plant sale and raffles that will include two handmade quilts. Also, lunch items including hot dogs, hamburgers and snack items will be sold. Children will have the option of creating Mother's Day Cards or purchasing kid-priced recycled toys. Proceeds go towards funding the purchase of equipment for the school. All are welcome.

Recycling Counts

Thanks to all environmentally minded Mattapoisett residents for the "super huge" start of the Recycling Center at the landfill area on Saturday, April 27th. It was a very busy day handling all of the recyclables brought in by YOU! - And that was GOOD!

Now that the landfill operators are managing the Recycling Center, it is for your convenience that the Center is open Tuesday through Saturday, 8 to 2. No ticket or sticker is needed - just you and your recyclables.

The Recycling Center is now accepting:

Plastics - milk, juice, water "jugs", flattened, tied tag through the handles.

#1, #2, #6, separated.

#1 usually a clear color, #2 usually a colored, #6 usually a yogurt or cottage cheese container, look on container bottom for the recycling symbol

The Marion Center Associates Foundation will present the third in its spring series of awareness hours on Saturday, May 18th, from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at Saint Gabriel's Parish Hall, 124 Front Street in Marion. "The film then also shows a family member

AUTOMOTIVE RECERTIFICATION

Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School's Automotive training program is the first in Massachusetts to receive re-certification by N.A.T.E.F., a national institute for Automotive Service Excellence.

An independent evaluation team was sent to Old Colony on December 12, 1990 to conduct the final portion of the certification process. The evaluation team was headed by N.A.T.E.F. representative Paul Anderson, and consisted of three local mechanics and one vocational instructor: Joseph Thomas, Allied Auto Parts, New Bedford; Wayne Pimental, Parting Ways Mobil, Acushnet; Douglas Meehan, Greater New Bedford Vocational High School, New Bedford. The team spent two days at Old Colony doing an in-depth evaluation of the automotive program, its curriculum, methods of instruction, job placement record, budget, and system of record keeping.

On April 19, 1991 the school was notified that it had qualified for certification in eight specialty areas: Automotive Transmission/ Transaxle, Engine Repair, Manual Drive Train and Axles, Brakes, Suspension and Steering, Heating and Air Conditioning, Electrical Systems, Engine Performance.

Based on this performance Old Colony will continue to receive training vehicles and equipment from both General Motors

NON-TRADITIONAL CAREER TRAINING

Seventeen Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School students have participated in non-traditional career training during this school year. These apprentices plan to enter work fields which historically have employed members of the opposite sex. Expanded career options, higher salaries and wages and better opportunities for advancement, coupled with legislation improving and strengthening training and placement programs, continue to encourage non-traditional careers, especially among women.

Of the female students enrolled at Old Colony eight study offset printing and five are learning drafting. Two are preparing to enter the electrical field and one will continue in machining. The lone male non-traditional student is working toward a future in health careers.

Officers in the school's non-traditional support group are president Cheryl Benner, vice president Carrie Russel and treasurer Heather Bettencourt, all from Rochester, and Acushnet resident Lorrie Medeiros, secretary.

Cheryl is a junior in machine shop and the only female presently enrolled. Carrie is a junior and Heather is a sophomore, both in machine drafting. Lorrie, a senior, attends the offset printing program.

On May 8th the group will host an all-day non-traditional careers workshop with speakers from many different fields.

in recognition of Professional Secretaries Week. The purpose of the presentation was to stress the importance of obtaining an Associate Degree in Secretarial Science.

Two speakers, former secretarial students, spoke about their experiences at BCC and the direction their careers have taken since graduation. A question and answer period followed each presentation.

Tours of the campus were conducted by students currently enrolled in the Office Administration Program at BCC. The tour provided an opportunity for Old Colony students to view classrooms, labs, and equipment as well as the bookstore, fitness center, and cafeteria.

Artifacts from the Collections of the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology, Harvard University", Art Museum; "Slipped and Glazed: Regional American Redware", lower gallery, Shaker Round Barn; and "The Artist and the Sea", Old Barn Gallery. "The Scottish Soldier" will continue in the Military Museum for a second year. All of the above mentioned exhibitions will be shown through the entire season with the exception of the Old Barn Gallery show, which will change every four to five weeks. A schedule for these shows as well as the concerts and special events appears on the Visitor's Guide which can be picked up at the Ticket Office on the Grounds.

"Art, Architecture and Power in Mesoamerica" begins a series of three exhibits presented by the Plantation from 1991 through 1993, as part of the celebration marking the 500th Anniversary of the voyage of Christopher Columbus. The purpose of this exhibit is to provide museum visitors with evidence of the monumental cultural and artistic achievements of Native American people before the age of European exploration and conquest. It marks the first time that a major Precolumbian exhibition has ever been mounted by a Cape Cod museum. Gallery talks will take place in the exhibition every Sunday at 2:00 p.m. and an audio tour will be available to visitors at a cost of $2.50 for members and $3.00 for non-members. During the next two years Heritage Plantation will show "The Age of Exploration and Discovery" at the Military Museum and will round out the trilogy with "The Pilgrim Century in Massachusetts".

"Art, Architecture and Power in Mesoamerica" was organized by the staff of the Peabody Museum and curated by Rosemary A. Joyce, Ph.D., assistant curator of Precolumbian Archaeology. The installation was designed by Richard Riccio also of the Peabody Museum.

Mesoamerica is a term designating a cultural and historical context as well as a geographical region. The societies identified as Mesoamerican lived in what is now part of Mexico and Central America and shared a number of features including a 260-day calendar, various elements of religion, self-inflicted bloodletting, and captive sacrifices, use of Cacao as a beverage and medium of exchange, the cultivation of Maize, pyramidal architecture, a ballgame played in specially built courts and a sense of common cultural origin.

The exhibition explores the use of art and architecture, plus ritual and warfare by the ruling elite classes of Mesoamerica, to define and reinforce their political power and strengthen their claims to personally affect the continuation of natural and social existence. Over fifty objects excavated by Peabody Museum explorations of Maya sites or secured by exchanges with the National Museum of Mexico are on display along with paintings and reconstruction drawings which depict Olmec and Maya ceremonials.

"Slipped and Glazed" is the loan exhibition in the lower gallery of the Round Barn. The show includes over one hundred and sixty examples of eighteenth and nineteenth century American redware grouped according to regional characteristics of form, glaze and decoration. Forty of these examples are signed by the maker and most of the remainder have firm attributions to specific regions. This exhibit presents a broad overview of the products of potters from Maine through North Carolina by offering groups of pottery attributable to a given region. The decorative methods employed include slip trailing, incising, sgraffito, and painted and brushed glazes on a wide variety of pottery. Both utilitarian and presentation pieces are included with the emphasis on decorated objects. A number of nineteenth century potters' tools are also featured in the show and include slip cups, a coggle wheel, a glaze mill and plate molds. Included among the twenty-five lenders are Old Sturbridge Village, Strawberry Banke, the Smithsonian Institution, SPNEA, MESDA, Old Salem and Essex Institute. A fully illustrated catalogue will be available for this exhibit.

"The Artist and the Sea", which runs through June 9th, in the Old Barn Gallery marks the return of these short term rotating art exhibitions to the Museum. Visitors will enjoy the exciting schedule that artist preparator Philip Dolan has arranged. The five shows will be presented from mid-May through mid-October, with a "Meet the Artist" reception from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. planned for each opening day.

The first show features marine art created by artists living both on Cape Cod and the South Shore. Ben Neill of Sandwich is coordinator of this show. Neill's fascination with the sea began when as a youth he sailed the waters of Massachusetts Bay surrounded by the grace and beauty of coastal and fishing schooners. After 40 years of illustrating in the world of advertising and editorial art, Neill turned to his life-long
